FOCUS Honored During 26th Annual Baylor Texas Family Business of the Year Awards Banquet

Institute for Family Business celebrates Texas Family Businesses

WACO, Texas (Nov. 23, 2015) – Focus Behavioral Associates (Focus) received the first Young/New Business Award—a new category for businesses less than five years old but who are prime examples of companies that provide substantial services to their community—during the 26th Annual Texas Family Business of the Year Awards Banquet.

The Institute for Family Business at Baylor University honored the 2015 Texas Family Business of the Year Award winners and finalists at an awards banquet on November 19th at the Paul L. Foster Campus for Business and Innovation. The awards program recognizes outstanding family firms who demonstrate a commitment to serve their community, industry and employees.

“The Institute for Family Business and Baylor University is privileged to honor great family businesses for the 26th consecutive year,” said William J. Worthington, director of the Institute for Family Business within the Hankamer School of Business. “The applicant pool provided stunning examples of the impact that firm, family, and faith can have on individuals, businesses, and the communities they serve.”

Focus is the only clinical-based therapy center in Central Texas that is focused on applied behavior analysis (ABA) techniques that enable children and adults with behavior diagnosis, such as Autism Spectrum Disorder, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, Oppositional Defiant Disorder, to improve their communication, motor and reasoning skills. Focus provides customized therapy options to treat and enhance their lives—giving them the needed tools to reach their goals successfully.
